FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Adobe Introduces Creative Cloud Express

New unified web and mobile product empowers everyone to easily make and share standout creative content, furthering Adobe's mission to enable Creativity for All

SAN JOSE, Calif. — December 13, 2021 — Adobe (Nasdaq:ADBE) today launched Creative Cloud Express, a unified task-based, web and mobile product that makes it easy to create and share beautiful rich multimedia content – from social media posts and stories to invitations to marketing materials like logos, flyers and banners. Creative Cloud Express enables drag-and-drop content creation, empowering every user to express their creativity with just a few clicks. Coming from the undisputed leader in creativity, Creative Cloud Express offers thousands of high-quality templates, 20,000 premium Adobe fonts and 175 million licensed Adobe Stock images. Creative Cloud Express leverages Adobe Sensei, Adobe's powerful AI/ML framework and the cutting-edge technology behind Adobe's flagship applications like Photoshop, Premiere and Acrobat.

Empowering people to create and communicate has always been core to Adobe's mission of changing the world through digital experiences. Creative Cloud Express makes it possible for everyone, independent of skill level, to make something great.

From students to social media influencers to small business owners – everyone is a creator. Whether they're making a school presentation, sharing experiences with friends on social media, growing a business or building a brand, people want to express their ideas. As a growing number of individuals and businesses look to monetize their content, goods and services online, they are looking for easy-to-use, template-driven tools to promote their products and themselves.

While the web has been an incredible medium for consuming and sharing content, it's rapidly becoming a powerful platform for content creation and collaboration. The web provides a ubiquitous platform to make creativity more accessible to all creators. With advances in artificial intelligence, cloud and web technology, we're entering an exciting new chapter for creativity on the web.

For all Creative Cloud subscribers who already use the company's flagship applications, Creative Cloud Express adds significant value to the ideation process from creating mock-ups to ensuring brand consistency to publishing content on social media.

"Everyone has a story to tell and it's our mission to empower everyone to express their ideas," said Scott Belsky, chief product officer and executive vice president, Creative Cloud, Adobe. "In this unique time, where millions of people are building a personal and professional brand, we're excited to launch Creative Cloud Express as a simple, template-based tool that unifies the creation, collaboration and sharing process so anyone can create with ease."

Adobe Introduces Creative Cloud Express To Unleash Creativity for All

"With Creative Cloud and Creative Cloud Express, we are meeting the demands of all creators and catalyzing the creator economy," said David Wadhvani, chief business officer and executive vice president, Adobe. "Creative Cloud Express is the start of a brand-new journey to introduce first-time creators to Adobe creative tools while adding significant value to our current Creative Cloud subscribers."
