Adobe Reports Record Quarterly and Annual Revenue

Q4 Operating Cash Flow Exceeds $1 Billion; Company Raises Revenue and ARR Targets for Fiscal Year 2019

SAN JOSE, Calif. — Dec. 13, 2018 — Adobe (Nasdaq:ADBE) today reported financial results for its fourth quarter and fiscal year 2018 ended Nov. 30, 2018.

In its fourth quarter of fiscal year 2018, Adobe achieved record quarterly revenue of $2.46 billion, which represents 23 percent year-over-year growth. In fiscal year 2018, Adobe achieved record annual revenue of $9.03 billion, which represents 24 percent year-over-year growth.

"Adobe achieved record revenue of greater than $9 billion and delivered outstanding earnings performance in fiscal 2018," said Shantanu Narayen, president and CEO, Adobe. "In 2018 we made significant investments across our product portfolio, entered new markets, and made strategic acquisitions which we believe will fuel continued top and bottom-line performance."

"We finished the year strong with record results across the board, meeting or exceeding all of our annual and quarterly targets which did not include Marketo," said John Murphy, executive vice president and CFO, Adobe. "We're excited to add Marketo and the expanded market opportunity it provides. We look forward to delivering strong revenue growth, accelerating earnings growth and healthy margin expansion during fiscal 2019."

Adobe acquired Marketo, Inc. on Oct. 31, 2018, which added approximately $21 million of revenue in the fourth quarter. This press release provides key financial information with and without the impact of the Marketo transaction to enable evaluation of the Company's performance based on financial targets provided before the acquisition.

ASC 606 Update

Adobe will report its financial results based on Accounting Standards Coding Topic 606 ("ASC 606") in its fiscal year 2019, beginning in March 2019 with its first quarter earnings report. The financial targets Adobe is providing today remain based on ASC 605 as the Company integrates its acquisition of Marketo into its financial systems. Adobe continues to believe that moving to 606 in fiscal year 2019 reporting will not materially impact its revenue. However, the Company now expects there will be a slight improvement to earnings through fiscal year 2019 due to benefits from capitalization of sales commissions.

² Includes revenue from SaaS, managed service and term offerings for Analytics Cloud, Marketing Cloud and Magento Commerce Cloud, as well as total revenue for Adobe Advertising Cloud ³ A reconciliation between GAAP and non-GAAP results is provided at the end of this press release and on Adobe's website

Adobe Updates Financial Targets for Fiscal Year 2019 to Include Marketo

Adobe provided preliminary fiscal year 2019 financial targets at its Financial Analyst Meeting on Oct. 15, 2018, before it had closed its acquisition of Marketo. The Company today is updating those targets and providing earnings per share targets to reflect the impact of:

- The acquisition of Marketo, including revenue, operating expense and the write-down of deferred revenue due to purchase accounting, and higher other expense in order to fund the acquisition; and
- Adverse changes in global currency rates since Sept. 2018, which was the time period used for spot currency rates as a basis for providing the preliminary fiscal year 2019 targets in mid-October.

The following table and subsequent commentary summarizes Adobe's annual fiscal year 2019 targets:

Adobe total fiscal year 2019 revenue	~$11.150 billion
Digital Media segment revenue	~20 percent year-over-year growth
Digital Experience segment revenue	~34 percent year-over-year growth
Digital Media annualized recurring revenue ("ARR")	~$1.450 billion of net new ARR
Digital Experience annual subscription bookings ¹	~25 percent year-over-year growth
Tax rate	GAAP: ~10 percent Non-GAAP: ~11 percent
Earnings per share	GAAP: ~$5.54 Non-GAAP: ~$7.75
¹ Includes annualized subscription value of SaaS, managed service and term offerings under contract for Analytics Cloud, Marketing Cloud and Magento Commerce Cloud

During fiscal year 2019, after the first quarter Adobe expects revenue in each quarter to grow by approximately the same year-over-year growth percentage implied in its targeted revenue for the year. In addition, the Company expects net new Digital Media ARR in each quarter to be sequentially similar as that achieved in past fiscal years from quarter to quarter – with typical summer seasonality which can lead to sequentially lower net new ARR in the third quarter, as well as normal year-end sequential strength in fourth quarter net new ARR.

As the financial impact of lost deferred revenue from recent acquisitions due to purchase accounting tapers off during fiscal year 2019, after the first quarter Adobe expects quarterly operating margins and quarterly earnings per share growth rates to increase sequentially during the year.

A reconciliation between GAAP and non-GAAP targets is provided at the end of this press release and on Adobe's website.

Adobe Provides First Quarter Fiscal Year 2019 Financial Targets

The following table summarizes Adobe's first quarter fiscal year 2019 targets:

Digital Media segment revenue	~20% year-over-year growth
Digital Experience segment revenue	~31% year-over-year growth
Net non-operating other expense	~$39 million

Share count	~495 million shares

A reconciliation between GAAP and non-GAAP targets is provided at the end of this press release and on Adobe's website.

Marketo excludes the Marketo acquisition costs in the fourth quarter of 2018 on a non-GAAP basis of $36 million, or $0.07 diluted earnings per share, driven by the GAAP net loss of $54 million offset by the add back of amortization of purchased intangibles of $18 million, or $0.04 diluted earnings per share.

Use of Non-GAAP Financial Information

Adobe continues to provide all information required in accordance with GAAP, but believes evaluating its ongoing operating results may not be as useful if an investor is limited to reviewing only GAAP financial measures. Adobe uses non-GAAP financial information to evaluate its ongoing operations and for internal planning and forecasting purposes. Adobe's management does not itself, nor does it suggest that investors should, consider such non-GAAP financial measures in isolation from, or as a substitute for, financial information prepared in accordance with GAAP. Adobe presents such non-GAAP financial measures in reporting its financial results to provide investors with an additional tool to evaluate Adobe's operating results. Adobe believes these non-GAAP financial measures are useful because they allow for greater transparency with respect to key metrics used by management in its financial and operational decision-making. This allows institutional investors, the analyst community and others to better understand and evaluate our operating results and future prospects in the same manner as management.

Adobe's management believes it is useful for itself and investors to review, as applicable, both GAAP information as well as non-GAAP measures, which may exclude items such as stock-based and deferred compensation expenses, restructuring and other charges, amortization of purchased intangibles and certain activity in connection with technology license arrangements, investment gains and losses, the related tax impact of all of these items, income tax adjustments, and the income tax effect of the non-GAAP pre-tax adjustments from the provision for income taxes. Adobe uses these non-GAAP measures in order to assess the performance of Adobe's business and for planning and forecasting in subsequent periods. Whenever such a non-GAAP measure is used, Adobe provides a reconciliation of the non-GAAP financial measure to the most closely applicable GAAP financial measure. Investors are encouraged to review the related GAAP financial measures and the reconciliation of these non-GAAP financial measures to their most directly comparable GAAP financial measure as detailed above.
