Organizations need to rethink how they produce content.

The demand for content is expected to grow between 5x and 20x over the next two years.

Staying competitive requires a new approach.

Adding headcount and budget isn't enough to keep up with the fast-changing content landscape. Large organizations must adopt fundamentally new ways of working, collaborating, and creating to succeed.

Systems need to scale.

Disconnected systems and disparate tools create time-consuming processes and bottlenecks, which lead to lost time and money. To stay competitive in a world demanding high-quality and high-volume content, businesses need better, faster, and more intelligent ways to scale their creativity.

44% of creatives spend more than half of their time on repetitive tasks, such as resizing assets.

71% of creatives face challenges with project management and collaboration, preventing a focus on creativity.

37% of marketers say creative approvals set back their projects by an average of three to four days.
